Ramco Systems Launches Series 5 ERP for Aviation Manufacturing at Miami MRO

For Immediate Release: April 12, 2011 - Lawrenceville, New Jersey – Ramco Systems, the Global Aviation Maintenance & Engineering and Maintenance, Repair & Overhaul software provider, announced today the launch of its new Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) offering for the Aviation, Aerospace and Defense industry.

With over 1100 global ERP Customers, Ramco Systems is one of the largest providers of enterprise applications for the aviation industry. Series 5 Manufacturing has all the necessary functionality for complex, mixed-mode, process and discrete, JIT, lean and KANBAN manufacturing processes. The manufacturing suite provides a single solution that unifies Engineering, Supply Chain, Manufacturing, Sales, Service Management, Plant Maintenance, Human Resources and Financials.

"According to our clients, one of the most important objectives is to have full ERP capabilities while tending to the uniqueness of their manufacturing processes of OEM components, parts and their supply and distribution network. Clients want to retain competitive advantages and Ramco's Series 5 Manufacturing Suite provides all the traditional best business practices, but moreover, Series 5 allows organizations to flex and extend the processes with Ramco's unique Extension Development Toolkit." says Jim Fitzgerald, President of Ramco Systems Corporation.
